

SAFETY BRIEFING

2024

Every 2024 participant must read and understand this safety briefing prior to participating in the Avon Descent to ensure safety for all.

INTRO

The Directors and Management Crew of this year's Avon Descent wish all participants and their support crews the very best and hope safety will be high on everyone's priority list.

It is expected that the river level will provide the usual challenges and it should not be taken for granted that it will always be a safe journey down river. River levels change rapidly and can provide unexpected hazards that are to be approached with caution and it should not be assumed that they are the same as previously experienced.

Safety instructions may be adjusted to accommodate for changes in conditions on event weekend.

General Behaviour

Registered participants must have read and understood the following Avon Descent requirements:

- Terms of Entry and Event Waiver
- Event Rules
- Specifications
- Code of Conduct

Participants must read and understand the Safety Briefing.

Private Property

Participants and their support crews must respect the Private Property of others and in particular, the property owners of the land we will pass through.

Support crews are advised that they will be trespassing if they access the river by travelling through storm water drains under the rail lines or crossing over rail lines and paddocks from River Road or Cobbler Pool Road.

The Deepdale Property is extensive and is a no-go area. Fergusson Farm, at Williamson Weir/Extracts is also not to be trespassed.

The actions of support crews that conflict with the above may jeopardise future Avon Descent events.

Craft overtaking

Craft executing an overtaking manoeuvre are to make their presence known, take as wide a path as practical and do so in a safe manner.

Craft being overtaken should be made aware of this and hold their line while continuing to travel downstream.

Collision is to be avoided, but participants that are involved in a collision must stop and check to see if assistance is required to any other participant.

It is essential that paddlers hold their line if being overtaken by powercraft.

Powercraft need to maintain some speed to remain in control of their craft and may not be able react quickly if the craft in front of them changes course unexpectedly.

Care for Fellow Participants

Participants who come across a fellow participant in trouble, in a life-threatening situation, struggling in water or on the riverbank without a craft, they must ask if assistance is required.

If assistance is required, then that assistance must be provided. If it is possible, engage others to also assist if required.

Assistance does not extend to the recovery or repair of damaged craft.

If the situation is not considered critical, continue on and report the incident to the next checkpoint downstream with the troubled participant's Race ID.

Be aware – ADSU Volunteers cannot be at all hazardous locations.

Safety Flags

Make yourself familiar with the different safety flags. Failure to adhere to course officials and directive flags could result in an event penalty.

WARNING

FLAGS WILL BE DISPLAYED
ALONG THE LENGTH OF THE RIVER.
DUE TO CHANGES IN WATER LEVEL, LOCATIONS

INTEREST TO BE FULLY AWARE OF FLAG COLOURS
AND MEANINGS.
